CREW NOT CAST

Showing of Potomac's Junior Eight Was Good Under Circumstances.

LOCAL BOATING GOSSIP

Despite their defeat at the hands of the Arundels at Baltimore on Saturday, the Potomac junior crew is not by any means disheartened by the result of the race.

While the local clubmen would have liked to have crossed the line winners, the conditions were not faverable for them. nditions were not favorable for them to do their best, and under all the cirmade a very creditable showing.

Upon their arrival Baltimore they learned that the shell which they were Five Brothers Trained on Cleveland to have used had been damaged the night before. While every attempt was made to have the shell put into proper shape by the Arundels, it was finally decided to The matter was put up to the Ariels
